

If this moves it is perfect maybe.

Daddy, daddy, daddy (sounds of sigh)

I understand what happened. Yet I wonder where you are heading for, where?

Well, I don't know so much about you, don't I?

Today, I would say to my dad 'you must be tired. Well done for your life'.
(Sounds of Sigh),,,,Daddy, well done. My father works until evening and I work from the late night. So we don't meet each other.

Somehow, (Sounds of Sigh) I feel this object is more like my father.

Hmm, as I lift up all the time, father walk towards me with a welcoming face. I say to him "you must be tired. Good job today". As a response, once if he asks me a favor, it is so hard to say no. I accept everything once I see his troubled face. "Well, one moment please, I can do what you want me to do".

Indeed I accept even impossible requests.
(Sounds of sigh)
"I (her dad) am waiting for your next visit".
I don't find tolerance, honesty, and perfection in him.
In this sense, his life was dramatic, and he had a special dinner or maybe his life was a stage for him.
Enjoy looking back on his life while dancing.

'Daddy, you must be tired. Good job today'

Once Dad leaves the hotel after the work, he become a customer not a hotelman and enjoys drinking till late.

'Yes, I (a master of some bar) know Mr. Shimojima, he is funny',

I am surprised to know my dad , he is funny when he is just Mr. Shimojima. I am curious about what my dad chat with his friends.

My dad is such a different person from my image. He is always quiet and just says 'Look, look', 'look everyone is working', 'look, it is hard'.

'Don't run at the corridor'. He nudged the forehead and asked me to reflect what I have done and didn't pick me up for a long time at the hotel.

"How you can wait for me so long time?" my father praised me, since I showed a guts. Well, when I was very little, he didn't get angry about whatever I did. So perhaps I ran around the corridor.

My dad was so friendly and his face was different from what I had known. Indeed his face was not a human since he was too friendly. He told me to laugh more, and keep laughing. We are not able to laugh all the time, aren't we?

After he passed away, well, I see, I see that time passes on, even one person passed away. 'Dad, you must have had some difficulties in your life. Well done my dad for your life, well done, well done.'
